A success story "Made in Germany"

Vitarights stands for innovation.
That's why we do research continuously and so write the Success story continues

How it all started Solving a health problem - that is Zorica Ebach's wish. Your theme are food intolerances. She is convinced that she can find something with that she can help herself, quickly and easily. This is how she meets Martin Becker (Alternative practitioner) and his team. Your goal: solids and liquids of daily use needs to be provided with information that increases the body's own ability to regulate.
Research in Information Medicine: The Vitalizer
The research team has been working on information medicine and quantum tenphysics. The breakthrough in 2015: The Vitalizer is here. He sends using coherentLight relevant information into the cells of an organism in order to regulate the reaccess. The users are enthusiastic, the company Vitarights is born, and the Vitalizer is developing into a successful product. Research will continue and the subsequent gende High Tech Vitalizer has continued the success story since 2017.
The Beosigner®: individual application for individual results Resting on this success is out of the question for everyone involved. The Idea of a device with which every person can act individually, adapted to their ownmental needs. This is how the Beosigner®, the basic device, and additional ones are created Operations that have different key functions. That's why they are called like this:
Keys; BeoKeys for human use and BeoKey Animal Complete for use in animals.

Vitality thanks to biophotons

In a living organism, cells communicate together. The biophysicist Prof. Dr. Fritz-Albert Popp proved in the 1970s that all organic Tissues emit a weak light. While the Light radiation in living cells only dissipates very slowly, it quickly diminished in dying cells and disappeared completely after cell death. This light part-Chen called Popp biophotons.

In order for an organism to function properly, it needs the right amount of biophotons and the right information. If one of the two is not available

This leads to disruptions in the regulatory processes of the body and thus less vitality.

In this case, as a person, you say sentences like: "I feel sick." "Or:" I can't really concentrate." "Or also:" I'm totally drained." And also Animals are not doing well then.

With the help of the biophotons and the appropriate information, it is possible to strengthen our energy metabolism and to positively influence regulatory processes. This is shown by several studies * independently of one another.

Selected studies*

- Effect of vitalized water:
Prof. Dr. Peter C. Dartsch demonstrated in vitro that vitalized water has a significant effect on increasing the basal energy metabolism of cultivated connective tissue fibroblasts. This suggests that wounds can heal better
- Effects on inflammation:
In-vitro studies by Dartsch Scientific show that endogenously formed radicals can be partially reduced. This has a positive effect on anti-inflammatory effects.

TheBeosigner®: how it works

The Beosigner® creates coherent light and with the help of this light transports information. When the light hits the cells of an organism or an organism as a whole, information is transferred. The information influences metabolic processes<sup>1</sup> at the cellular level, which can lead the organism to homeostasis.

Effect on humans and animals

Vitality disorders such as A lack of biophotons and the correct information in the body's cells go hand in hand with lack of energy, lack of energy or hypersensitivity. The Beosigner® can vitalize and re-shape the cells and thus stimulate the self-healing powers.

Vitalization in seconds

As soon as the coherent light of the Beosigner® hits a living organism - such as your body - relevant information is transmitted into the cells in a biologically effective way. Even short applications can make a difference: They strengthen, activate or regulate, for example,
the cell metabolism

WIRKUNGSWEISE DES BEOSIGNERS®

Get to know the Beosigner®

The Beosigner® inside: rich in valuable content and complex technology.

The Beosigner® outside: reduced to the essentials, packaged in an elegant design.

It was important to us that we make using the Beosigner® easy for you. That is why you will only find one button for switching on / off, one for selecting the program and one for exchanging the BeoKeys. There is also a control light on the front and a charging socket on the side. Complete. The Beosigner® takes care of the rest for you.

The informed light emerges on the back of the Beosigners®. So that you don't have to guess where exactly this is happening, you will find a small orientation point - exactly opposite on the front. And a tangible orientation ring around the exit point of the light beam on the back.

At the lower edge of the Beosigner® you will find a small holder. There you can attach the loop supplied. What for? If you hang the Beosigner® on a longer strap or chain, it can be conveniently carried around your neck and used. Or you can hang one of the BeoKeys on the loop - they work to a certain extent, even if they are not inserted into the switched-on Beosigner®.

A great opportunity for children too, for example when they are writing class work and have the "focus" with them in this way.

The Beosigner® valuable, so protect it well

For example in one of our genuine leather cases. This means that the Beosigner® is your loyal companion even when traveling.

BeoPark

BeoPark is the perfect addition to your Beosigner®. Use it as an elegant station that holds the Beosigner® securely in place; this is ensured by the strong ferro magnet inside. And because magnets can be well informed, we did that too - of course in our special, specially developed way. By the way, ferro-magnets are said to have a positive effect on the organism: you should therefore set up the BeoPark near you, for example on the table or bedside table.

The BeoPark can also be tilted or set in five different positions, three horizontally and two vertically. So can You can adjust the informed light beam of the Beosigner® at different angles and at different heights. This is particularly practical because you have your hands free while your food, drinks or care products are revitalized - or your body, especially in places that you cannot reach as easily as your spine, for example.

Beosigner® apply basic application

Acupuncture

In acupuncture, fine needles are used to influence organs or areas.

The Beosigner® works with the help of coherent light. Use the Beosigner® specifically on the corresponding acupuncture points (see p. 18/19). You can also work on the main vitalization points (see p. 16/17) daily as a preventative measure.

Allergies and intolerances

Put your defense reactions back on the right track. The Beosigner® offers you various options for this. You can directly vitalize foods to which you are allergic or sensitive. You can also reduce the effects of allergens with which you come into contact through the air or the environment. With the help of the Beosigner® on your thymus gland and a sample of the allergen on your stomach.

Sport und Energy

Do you lack the energy and motivation for exercise or sport? With the Beosigner® you can, among other things, increase your physical performance. It also works on a mental and emotional level, which is important if you want to do sports. With a study * we were also able to prove that our technology improves regeneration - an important factor also in competitive sport.

* Bitte Hinweis zu durchgeführten Studien lesen (siehe S. 33).

Stress and relaxation

Many of us have a tight schedule, and there are also harmful environmental influences, for example from contaminated food. The result: We feel drained, tired, limp. The Beosigner® can help us cope with stress and release blockages.

Hauptvitalisierungspunkte beim Menschen

1. The vertex: for the hypothalamus

The hypothalamus is a mediator responsible for vital functions, the hormone balance, the immune system and sexual functions. An example of his work: The hypothalamus decides whether external stimuli penetrate our consciousness. The acupuncture point for the hypothalamus is the highest point on the head. It's where your fingers meet as you walk them up from the top of your ears.

2. The root of the nose: for the pituitary gland

The pituitary gland, also known as the pituitary gland, controls hormonal glands such as the thyroid gland and the adrenal cortex, among other things. If the thyroid gets out of balance, it affects our performance, our mood and our metabolism. If the adrenal glands tire, we may no longer be able to cope with everyday demands. Such fatigue can occur when the system is overloaded: more stress, more stress hormones, crash. Anything that helps us to cope better with stress in the short term first exhausts itself. And then us, possibly to the point of burnout. The acupuncture point for the pituitary gland is located directly between the eyebrows.

3. The thymus gland

The thymus gland (the thymus) is also referred to as the brain of the body's own defenses. It belongs to the lymphatic system and is the connecting element between the immune system, the hormonal system and the vegetative nervous system. Since the thymus gland shrinks with the onset of puberty, it hardly plays a role in conventional medicine. In naturopathy, the following applies: The thymus remains active and benefits from being regularly activated. The thymus is located behind the breastbone, four fingers' widths below the hollow of the neck.

4. Sea of Energy

The name comes from Chinese medicine and says it all: Among other things, this acupuncture point provides more energy. It prevents cravings, supports the intestines and has a positive effect on the adjoining kidneys. It is considered to be one of the most frequently needed points. The "sea of energy" is three fingers below the navel.

Important acupuncture points in humans

Use the Beosigner® on an acupuncture point and thus influence the self-healing powers.

Beosigner®: Anwendung bei Lebensmitteln, Getränken und Kosmetik

We need food, i.e. water and food to live on - ideally of good quality.

Food

Every organism contains biophotons, this also applies to food. However, harmful influences can reduce the number of biophotons, falsify cell information and thus reduce the bioavailability of the nutrients. The Beosigner® regulates this deficiency and thus increases the quality of a food.

Water and drinks

Water is our most important food. It is all the more important that we drink good quality water. The Beosigner® can be used to produce water with the physical quality of medicinal water from normal water, even tap water. This can be clearly seen from the physical structure of the water under the microscope **.

Beosigner® with keys: application in humans

BeoKeys - individual strengthening on a mental level

Our modern life presents our body with challenges every day. And our mind also knows these challenges, situations that require special attention. Situations that we find stressful or stressful, that may even paralyze us or throw us off track. Then we don't feel strong, focused, happy and confident. But limp, unfocused, sad and out of balance. We are really doing well when body and mind are strengthened and perfectly balanced.

The Beosigner® serves the physical level with the "pure" application. There are also four different BeoKeys for the mental level: Power, Joy, Stability and Focus. They can help you to feel better again, to feel spiritually strong. Why these four? Years of experience from competent therapists form the basis for the BeoKeys - on this basis we were able to program the valuable information onto the keys.

Tip: You can also use several keys one after the other. Just decide from situation to situation. Or you can develop your personal Beosigner® ritual: a fixed sequence of Beosigner® and keys that becomes an equally fixed habit. In this way, you can do something good for yourself as a preventive measure.

By the way: We deliberately chose the names of the BeoKeys. Feel within yourself what would be really good for you mentally, or take a look at the questionnaire we developed. Sometimes it's not that easy to clearly state your emotional state. The questionnaire will help you decide which BeoKey you need right now. And then treat yourself to your portion of power. Joy. Stability. Or focus.

POWER

BeoKey Power
for full power

JOY

BeoKey Joy for more joy and drive

STABILITY

BeoKey Stability for mental balance and sovereignty

FOCUS

BeoKey Focus
for more concentration and clarity

BeoKey Power For full Power

---

Use the BeoKey Power like a lightning arrester that buffers stress stimuli. You become more attentive to stress-inducing situations and can build a protective wall against the feeling of being overwhelmed. You can cope with stressful times by optimizing relevant metabolic functions. You can regenerate more quickly, gain more confidence in yourself and reduce fear of failure.

The result: you face the challenges of your everyday life with charged batteries.

BeoKey Joy For more joy and drive

Melancholy, depression or sadness? Bad for mind and body - so encourage your zest for life. Rely on the BeoKey Joy, which works like a smile. Perceiving positive aspects helps to develop visions for life. This will help you understand what regained health can mean for you. This attitude has an impact on your well-being, and you enjoy more self-esteem and self-determination.

The result: You start with fun and life joy in every day.

BeoKey Stability For mental balance and sovereignty

Bring important components of the vegetative control system into balance with the BeoKey Stability. So you can enjoy inner peace and soothing relaxation. The improved attitude towards life can also have a positive effect on disorders in which a close connection between psyche and body is known. Go through your life upright and with firm convictions, calmly and confidently.

The essence: The BeoKey Stability - a supporting pillar for Your positive attitude towards life.

BeoKey Focus For more concentration and clarity

Meet potential difficulties in a more concentrated, tidy and relaxed manner. The reformation of amino acids is important for the brain metabolism and the psyche, among other things. When problems appear more transparent, harmony and joie de vivre arise. Those who are less distracted, restless or restless become more decisive, more dynamic and more productive. See the BeoKey Focus like a magnifying glass for these processes.

The effect: You focus on the essential points in your life.

Beosigner® with keys: application in humansn

Beosigner® plus BeoKey: Individual Applications

1. Carry out the basic application (see page 13)
2. Wait two to three minutes, drink a glass of vitalized water and insert the selected BeoKey into the Beosigner®
3. Vitalize the point assigned to the BeoKey used.
4. If you want to use several BeoKeys in a row, please wait two to three minutes before using the next key.

We recommend two applications per day; the second application four to five hours after the first. You can also use the Beosigner® three times a day. You will feel what is good for you.

IMPORTANT: You decide how you use Beosigner® and BeoKeys. Test what is good for you. Maybe your breaks are shorter or longer. Perhaps you will work with the BeoKey inserted right from the start. Our experience from tests shows that it is important, especially at the beginning, to follow the approach we recommend. This is especially true for sensitive people. So the body gets used to what it suddenly gets good. But it can also be different for you, we are all different. And we react just as differently to influences, including positive ones.

Each BeoKey is assigned to a part of your body for use:

- BeoKeys Power, Focus and Joy:
Main point of vitalization for the hypothalamus (vertex)
- BeoKey Stability:
solar plexus

• A real joy:
This beam of light makes the difference

BeoKey Animal Complete: use the Beosigner® on animals

Our animals are companions and real friends for us. That is why we suffer so much with them when they are not doing well. Dogs, cats or horses, for example - they too experience stress or get sick, just like us. The good news: You can help your pet.

Many animal connoisseurs rely on the duo of Beosigner and Animal-Key

We have learned from many animal owners, professional riders, veterinarians and therapists how positively animals react to the Beosigner®. They report more energy, more strength, better concentration and a strengthened immune system in the animals. This does not surprise us, because the Beosigner® works with biophoton technology and has a vitalizing effect on all biological systems.

Der speziell für Tiere programmierte Einsatz BeoKey Animal Complete enthält genau die Informationen, die ein Tier benötigt, um ausgeglichen und vital zu sein.

Barbara Richter mit „Futzi“; Gut Waldau

How to use the Beosigner® on your pet:

- Harmonize food and drinking water.
This increases the bioavailability of the feed, improves it their tolerance and reduces allergies. You can also harmonize medicines, vaccinations and wormer treatments.
- Use the Beosigner® in the following places: »Problem areas »Meridians, acupuncture and acupressure points
In this way you support regeneration and regulation processes
- The Beosigner® not only promotes rest and relaxation, it is also good for muscles, tendons and ligaments.
- It also improves the rideability of horses. Your animal stays calmer and more relaxed. And the fur also benefits.

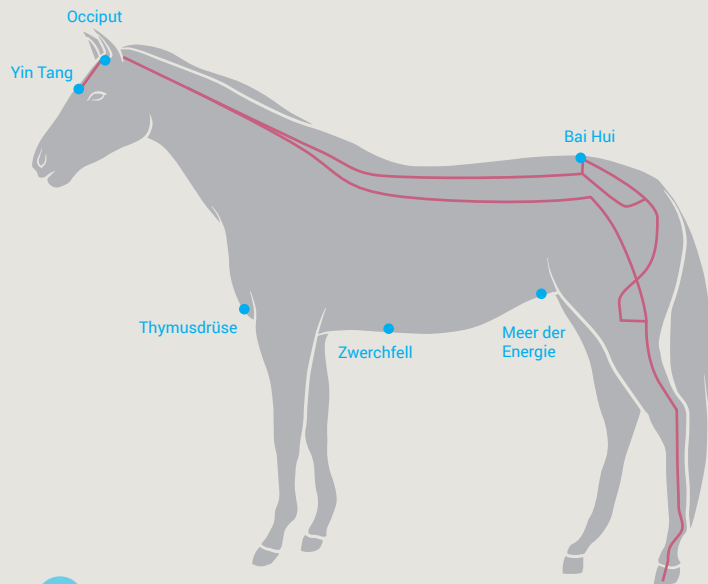

Wirkaussagen beruhen auf Erkenntnissen der alternativen Medizin.

Main points of vitalization in animals

Traditional Chinese medicine assumes that there are so-called meridians, energy channels. These meridians and thus organs and areas can be reached and stimulated via acupuncture points - this also applies to animals.

Simply hold the Beosigner® on the corresponding points as in the respective illustration, move it over the relevant points or along the meridians.

Horse

Bladder meridians (left and right of the spine), Bai Hui, solar plexus, possibly: thymus gland, hypothalamus, yin tang, sea of energy

DOG CAT

Bladder meridians (left and right of the spinal column), solar plexus, possibly: thymus gland, hypothalamus, yin tang, sea of energy.

Die Hauptvitalisierungspunkte für Hund und Katze sind identisch.

So reagieren Tiere auf den Beosigner® – Menschen berichten

JULIA FICHTNER

"It is noticeable that my horse walks more and more loosely and forwards better. The leg is getting better every day. She enjoys walking again. If I use the Beosigner® on her head, she lets it hang relaxed and stands still. I can only recommend the Beosigner®. "

GABY KLAWUHN

"My ten-year-old tomcat comes by itself and can regularly be revitalized for longer. It's just good for him. "

ILKA ERRAOUI

"My dog tolerates her food much better through vitalization. It's also great to see how the vitalization works on stressed and anxious animals. "

LEA MAUEL

"All in all, I have had very good experiences with the Beosigner®. My horse reacts much more strongly to the new animal key. And the reactions (licking, chewing, yawning) persist even after several days. The injury to the fetlock wearer also experienced a noticeably faster improvement. My other mare has run significantly 'rounder' since using it. "

KIRSTEN SALVETER

"My mare has risen. So she just stood on her hind legs and then fell backwards. She twisted her tail, which I had x-rayed in a clinic. Tendons and ligaments were clearly overstretched, and she could no longer hold up and move her tail on her own. She was then vitalized twice a day. After two weeks she was able to lift her tail again, even when feeding. "

Questions & Answers

Can I "overvitalize" myself or my food?

No, this is not possible with the Beosigner®. It transmits information, and only the quality of the transmission and that of the information are important. Quantity, i.e. quantity, is not a relevant factor here.

Can side effects occur during use?

The Beosigner® does not manipulate anything, it acts purely by transmitting information and thus initiates regulatory processes. Therefore we are not aware of any side effects. However, there may be initial reactions after vitalization.

A body in which something regulates needs energy - therefore it is possible that it needs a little rest. Detoxification can also become noticeable, which can be observed in many naturopathic treatments.

Does the light from the Beosigner® also work through opaque packaging?

Tests show that the light of the Beosigner® is able to transmit information "deeper" than light radiation is optically perceptible to us. This could be due to the fact that this information is transported by certain waves of light - so-called longitude waves.

(see work by Prof. Dr. Konstantin Meyl). However, we recommend vitalizing food without packaging.

Is there anything that can harm the Beosigner®? Or impaired its effectiveness?

The Beosigner® is very robust. There are only two things it doesn't tolerate: moisture and microwaves. Moisture - including water vapor - can damage the electronics. Microwaves make vitalizing less effective. This means: The Beosigner® should not come near microwaves. In addition, vitalized foods lose their vitality in the microwave.

Questions & Answers

What happens to the Beosigner® during baggage checks or on the plane?

Nothing will happen to your device, you can take it with you on air travel. Neither magnetic fields nor X-rays at the security check at the airport have a harmful effect on the Beosigner®. Things that you vitalized before you were blown up keep their harmonization even on the plane.

Is there any scientific evidence that the Beosigners® works?

In the past few years, recognized institutes have carried out studies that document our technology.

So far, tests have been carried out with the predecessor of the Beosigner®, the Vitalizer *. We publish these results on our website, for example. This brochure also gives you a brief look at page 7, where you will also find a QR code and a link that will take you directly to the relevant website.

Is your question not included here?
Simply contact your Vitarights partner, he will be happy to answer them. Or browse a little on our website. There we have a lot of useful information about the Beosigner®, the technical background and the company Vitarights Innovations ready for you

* Note on studies
In the past few years, recognized institutes have carried out studies that document our technology. These studies were carried out with the predecessor of the Beosigners®, the High Tech Vitalizer. All study results can be transferred to the Beosigner® because we use the same technology for this device. The difference to the Vitalizer lies - besides the user-friendly design - in the additional BeoKeys. Each user can use them to expand the Beosigner® individually. So to speak: the same content plus content on top.

In a nutshell The use of the Beosigner® serves to promote well-being - it is not a curative measure and does not constitute a therapy in the sense of a medical treatment. If there is a suspicion of illness or health complaints, the use of the Beosigner® cannot replace a doctor's visit. Please do not interrupt or end a medical treatment without authorization against the background of an application with the Beosigner®.

Note: In conventional medicine is the biological effect The transmission of subtle information through light is not recognized.
